DABBLELAB INC

2023 - PRESENT

At DabbleLab, I'm at the forefront of innovation, navigating the cutting edge of JavaScript technologies. My role delves into the robust Prisma and SQL ecosystem, where I orchestrate seamless integration and optimization of databases. Prisma, a powerful database toolkit, elevates our projects by providing type-safe database access and automatic schema migrations, ensuring both efficiency and reliability.

A highlight of my work involves the implementation of a federated GraphQL setup, revolutionizing our API development. This approach modularizes our architecture, promoting scalability and flexibility. By fetching only necessary data, we optimize performance, enhancing the user experience.
